DEADLINE: Third Friday in November for spring semester
Health Professions Program at Utah State University-Eastern Blanding Campus

Surgical Technician

The Surgical Technician Program is an Associate Degree program that can be completed in four semesters, after completing one semester of prerequisites. The prerequisites must be completed prior to the student applying for and being accepted into the Surgical Technician (ST) Program. Surgical Technologists, also called Surgical Technicians, assist in operations under the supervision of surgeons, registered nurses, and other surgical personnel. Duties may include: helping to set up the operating room, prepare and transport patients for surgery, adjust lights and equipment, pass instruments and other supplies to surgeons and surgeon assistants, hold retractors, cut sutures, and help count sponges, needles, supplies, and instruments. Students receive an Associate of Applied Science Degree in Surgical Technology from Utah State University upon completion of academic coursework and clinical experience. Upon the successful completion of coursework, students will be eligible to sit for and pass the National Board of Surgical Technology and Surgical Assisting (NBSTSA) certification examination. If the student successfully passes this national board, they will obtain the Certified Surgical Technologist (CST) certification. The USU Eastern Surgical Technician Program complies with the national requirements for Surgical Technicians. Students successfully completing the program will be well prepared for a career in Surgical Technology.
